

A short reflection on today's Gospel John 20:19-23

Today's Gospel according to John witnesses the first encounter between the Risen Jesus and his disciples. He shows them the signs of his Passion, the wounds which so powerfully effect his compassionate connection with suffering humanity. He offers them his peace, a perfect peace, the peace which comes from living life fully, a life which is in harmony with God and humanity. He breathes into them the Holy Spirit with gifts of knowledge and courage to arm them for their evangelising mission. Finally he gives them the power to forgive sins, the power which is at the heart of Jesus' mission of reconciliation. Where there is forgiveness there is no division, no separation: there is only oneness with God and humanity, through the death and resurrection of His son and the healing power of the Holy Spirit.

When Thomas, having been absent from Jesus' previous appearances, expresses doubts about his Master's resurrection, and then finds himself being offered incontrovertible proof by the Man of Sorrows himself, Jesus uses the opportunity to reach down lovingly through the ages to all of us who have not seen the physical evidence of his resurrection, but who believe in its glorious truth: "Happy are those who have not seen and yet believe."

Today's Gospel is a quiet miracle of peace, love and forgiveness offered to us as an unearned gift, redolent of God's unlimited love for humanity, his presence closer to us than our breath in all that we do and in all that we suffer. Thanks be to God.

National Year of Prayer for Vocations to the Diocesan Priesthood – In today's second reading St John asks: "Who can overcome the world?" and answers: "Only those who believe that Jesus is the Son of God." We pray that our seminarians and those discerning a vocation to serve the people of this diocese will be men of faith, whose doubts and fears will be relieved through an encounter with the Risen Jesus.
